Parking on Campus: The Nightmare Continues

by Janice Savage
Editor-in-Chief

I am now officially a student at Laurentian University. I received my first parking ticket last December, just before going on Christmas Holidays.

In case you've been trapped underneath something heavy, parking on campus can be a heck of an experience if you don't know what's going on or if you don't have a parking card because having a car is not something that usually happens to you, which is, in my case, a contribution to why I received said ticket. A few funny things have happened in terms of parking on campus that are not necessarily consistent with logic. Take, for instance, the installation of parking meters by the bus stop outside the Classroom Building. That extra lane had previously been reserved for buses to pull in, let students off and avoid blocking traffic. Now, I suppose because security realized they were fighting a losing battle with rebellious drivers, you can park there for a fee.

How about that ugly surprise we all received in September when we found out that the price of parking for a day went up 100 percent. Last year, you could park for a loony, now its two. Unless of course you park in Lot 4, which is designated as visitors parking, where you can receive choice spots for four dollars a day.

The price of a parking card averages roughly from sixty to one hundred dollars a year. Most students, trying to pay tuition, books etc., take the easiest route and buy the cheap seat in "pack-a-lunch" parking, otherwise known as "The Pit". Perhaps "The Pits" would be a better term. In the Winter its a long cold walk up your choice of scenic pathways that double for wind tunnels when there's a breeze off the lake. In the Spring, the unpaved lot becomes the biggest man made lake in Canada.

But I suppose exposure and drowning are acceptable excuses for being a day late with your tuition

Another silly idea was putting the chains and barriers up at either end of "Ring Road" that runs by the front doors of UC and SSR. You may also notice the signs warning motorists that it is a "Fire Route, Do Not Block." (I wonder if a fire truck would get charged for driving through the chains.) Warm fuzzies to whoever it is, (be it security or someone else) for leaving the road open for the last little while.

As for my ticket, I paid it. I had it coming. But who doesn't have it coming are the residence drivers who had to get their cars towed because the university won't pay for plug ins in the lot. People who park in handicapped spots never get ticketed, but step out of your car after you park in the lot reserved for Marriott (like me) and just see how fast security slaps a fine on your wind-shield. Go catch a criminal, my car won't hurt anybody when its not moving.

SPACE FOR RANT

Mr. Brons is off topic

I am writing this letter in response to Mr. Brons' letter last week. I would like to respond to the lack of basis for his letter.

Mr. Brons states that I "conveniently side step the issue of violence against women". Very true, I did not address the issue, probably because that wasn't the focus of the column. If Mr. Brons had read it without his copy of The Whiner's Bible beside him, he might have noticed that the issue I was discussing was the militancy of the feminist movement, and how it had lost it's original goals, that being dignity for women, and gained the dubious honor of promoting ridiculous issues such as the politically correct speech and the de-emotionalization of love between men and women.

I often wonder what people like you think when you read. Do you actually get into the guts of something, or do you skim the surface with your sensitivity meter running, screaming out loud when something offends you because you don't like it.

Finally, for the record, I am against violence against women. Perhaps Mr. Brons and his ilk would have you believe that conservatives believe in beating women, but I would like to set the record straight. We like our women strong, self-assertive, intelligent and successful. We believe in the dignity of all. It is leftist thinking that puts people down when they say that your not intelligent enough, or strong enough or at the mercy of others when you are failing. We believe in the spirit of the individual human, and we would never hurt that spirit. And that includes violence.

Women's Studies Student Disagrees

I am writing in reply to the article "Male Student Offered the Option of Dropping Out..." in the January 13 edition of Lambda.

I find the way the article portrayed this issue from only one side very disturbing. First of all, the student is not the only male registered in Professor Elizabeth Rucki's Introduction to Women's Studies class, as it was stated in the article. In fact, he is one of three male members of the class. I feel this false fact should be clarified in order to discredit the statement made by the defending female student. She stated that "the administration says he is not being asked to leave because he's a man. But he is the only man in the class and he is the only one the prof has a problem with." In the article, Professor Rucki is wrongly accused of attacking her student because of his gender.

The depiction of the student as a victim of circumstance is wrong. He is guilty of what he was accused of. I agree with giving all students the opportunity to state their views in a class discussion, but a mature student knows where to draw the line.

In many of our class discussion statements have become unnecessarily crude, resulting in the yelling of obscenities across the room

Sign, Sign Everywhere a Sign

I just wanted to write and thank the administration for the new blue signs that have cropped up all over campus in the last week. As I walk back from my car that won't start...due to inadequate parking facilities...it is nice to know that I have finally reached my destination.

Get real people! Does the administration really have nothing with a higher priority than new signs. Is there no department on campus that doesn't need new equipment. No lab that needs new equipment. No need for extra computer terminals. Perhaps the residence doesn't need an upgraded hot water system so that we can have hot water all the time instead of just some of the time. At a time when the administration claims that money is scarce, the installation of these signs cannot be the thing that the administration feels will improve the quality of life for the student population or the quality of academics in our school.

I don't know who approves the expenditures of these types of things, but perhaps that person should take a good look around and see what is really important in making this school a better place to live and study.

Anonymous

and explicit descriptions of what one student could do to another. The male student was not the only participant in these arguments. Some female students encourage him in his tirades.

These outbursts may not be enough to ask a student to consider changing classes. However, it is sufficient for students, like myself, to begin to wonder if they are paying for an education or a front seat ticket to the battle of the sexes. I have found it impossible to learn in the class due to these interruptions.

The male student may not be the only cause of the disturbances, but he is the root of the problem. Therefore, I believe that Professor Rucki is justified in her decision. I may be only a first year student, but I am willing to look at both sides of the story in order to draw my own conclusions.

Beauchamp Officially Asked to Leave Women's Studies Class

by Andy McKillican
News Editor

Brian Beauchamp is the name of the male student ordered to leave Dr. Elizabeth Rucki's Introduction to Women's Studies class. On Thursday, January 13th Beauchamp was sent a letter by Dr. Paul Colilli, Dean of Humanities, telling him to withdraw from the course. In spite of Dr. Don Thompson, Provost and President of Thorneloe College, saying in an interview last week that, "That's an incorrect impression that the student was asked to leave."

Indeed, the letter orders

Beauchamp to "withdraw immediately from WOMN 1005EC" or register in a correspondence course. The letter gives "conduct which threatens harm to the proper functioning of the University Programs or activities" as the reason for his being asked to leave the class. Beauchamp is upset with the turn of events because he wishes to study Women's Studies. "As far as I'm concerned I want to stay in the Program."

Dr. Thompson suggested that there are problems in the class with "the way Beauchamp conducted his own questions and challenges." Dr. Paul Colilli said, "As a Dean I feel strongly that we should have an environment where people can express themselves without feeling intimidated. We will be able to avoid people being intimidated by moving the student to another course."

Beauchamp said, "Dr. Rucki says she feels threatened by me. I'm a big guy. People are afraid of me. But I've hung around girls all my life and none of them have had any complaints."

Beauchamp is concerned about the content of the class. He finds a bias against men in the course material, he said, "If she gets too far off base, I put up my hand." He describes the course as a "neo-nazi training ground for the feminist movement."

One female student in the class who takes Beauchamp's side says she does not feel threatened by his presence. She said, "I think the situation is a little out of control." She says he gives his opinion in class and members of the class "feel opposed to what he is saying and it becomes disruptive for the class."

Another student suggested that there is a problem with the way discussion is conducted by Dr. Rucki. "She lets it get out of control where people are actually fighting and she hasn't stepped in."

A female student that is bothered by the presence of Beauchamp said that debate mediation is not the problem,

"I don't think it's Dr. Rucki's fault. They don't know when it's enough." She said, "I think some of the things he (Beauchamp) says are unsuitable. He can get his point across by saying it other ways."

Beauchamp says he is studying Women's Studies in an attempt to familiarize himself with the problems that women face. He says, "I'm trying to get into law. If I ever get to be a lawyer, I'm going to have to deal with these issues. I also take Native Studies. My average is A. I have no problems with that class."

Beauchamp maintains that he plans to stay in the class. "I'm staying in because I don't think I should have to go."

Anything But Yes Really Does Mean No, Assistant Crown Attorney

by Andy McKillican

Has your behaviour changed changed. "On that date Canada took a hard line stance on sexual assault."

Garson began with some startling statistics, 90% of his time as an Assistant Crown Attorney goes into working on sexual assault cases. He said, "If anything will land people in this University in the court system, it is sexual assault."

A tap on the shoulder, a pat on the behind and a breast being grabbed, which of these is sexual assault?

Garson stated that sexual assault is "an act or gesture that affects the sexual integrity of sault have greatly increased the range of behaviour that can be considered sexual assault.

Garson also stated that victims are being treated better in the system. This includes the fact that a victim's sexual history cannot be brought up during a trial. The Assistant Crown Attorney said, "All the court wants to hear about is that night." Also in the past the victim of the assault had to have been "untouched" and the victim's testimony had to have corroboration. The system has also been reformed to treat the perpetrator of the assault more kindly. Forty years ago the crime was punishable by "life in jail and whipping." Of course, there were fewer convictions.

For Garson, consent is the key to protection from an accusation of Alcohol use by the victim or the accused is almost never a defense to a charge of sexual assault. "Alcohol changes the whole game." In the case where a female is intoxicated and her partner wishes to engage in intercourse, her alcohol use means that her consent to sex may not be a defense in court. Garson said, "As soon as you see she's drunk, that's a red light." Though an intoxicated vic-

The Assistant Crown Attorney suggested that action is not pursued every time an event like this occurs, but because occasionally it does, people should protect themselves. "One time out of a hundred they will involve the authorities. But it's a life record and it's a life destroyer." Garson's advice to students is to warn friends about the changes in the law, "Think about that guy that we all know is bound to be a victim of these laws and do him a favour and tell him about them."

For the longest time I was having a private argument with myself. Do I vote for the provincial NDP in the next election or not? They had become more conservative than the Conservative Party. Well, I didn't have to wait long before the NDP came back to their utopian socialist roots.

In December, our comrades in Toronto released the Fair Tax Commission's report on taxation, all 1114 pages of it. It's shocking. It's also one of the best examples of the attempt to create class envy, that is to set one segment of society against the other so that the NDP will benefit during the next election. Here's why:

The provincial government would take over the cost of education completely, resulting in your property taxes falling. The opposite reaction in this Newtonian law is that your income taxes would rise. Under the present system, a portion of your property taxes were at least guaranteed to go to education. The NDP would be free to completely determine the level of support for schools, which should make you feel very confident. If you think your taxes would fall, don't worry, under the recommendations, school boards still have the right to levy a further 10% of government funding from residential properties.

The report also asks for a new national sales tax, on a broader base of goods and services, to replace the GST and PST. And the Commission argued this report wasn't a tax grab?

They also want to negotiate with Ottawa to allow the province to set its own rates and tax categories for income tax. If this one gets through, I will personally guarantee that income taxes will rise through the roof, probably under the excuse that "there was a lower than expected revenue coming in" or "there is still income disparity in Ontario", translated it means that there are still wealthy people left in the province.

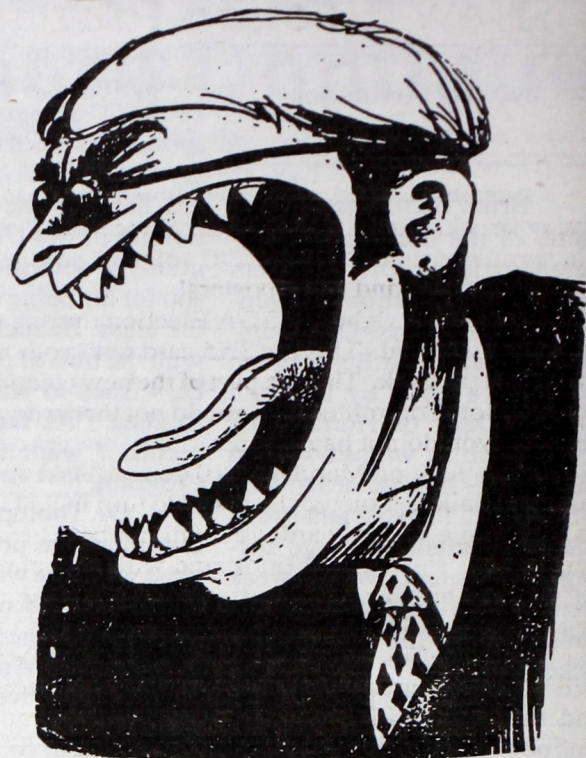

The report urges the government to tax groups like the Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, religious groups, orphanages (I thought there were poor people in those), the Red Cross, charities for the poor (hmmm), and cemeteries. I personally like taxing cemeteries the best. It shows that even when you die, you can still have the opportunity to support the bloated corpse of socialism in Ontario.

There are more taxes: consumer fee for garbage collection, tax on ozone damaging substances, new taxes on materials that hurt the environment (this report is 1114 pages a copy, does that mean...), a new tax on fossil fuels, and a new fee structure for motor vehicle registration.

Now, taken in parts, this doesn't seem that bad, but when all linked together they affect a subtle change that would take away the money from people who truly create jobs, the 'evil' wealthy. According to the Fair Tax Commission, these changes will result in families earning over $50000 paying "sizable tax hikes". This is called a middle class tax grab. Some sample numbers from the Toronto Star, which presumably got their figures from the Commission state that a single mother, living in Toronto with two children in an apartment and earning $20000 would pay $506 less, while a single earning family making $125000 with two children and owning their own house would pay an extra $1687. Does that $506 less that the single mother pay create a job? Perhaps a government one to administrate all the new taxes, but it doesn't do one thing for the economy. The extra $1600 that the single earning family would pay might have gone into investments, which create jobs. The government simply doesn't believe that wealthy people create jobs, but that's the fact.

What this report really wants is to redistribute income. Take it away from people who earned it because they are more successful and give it to people who have been prayed upon by the NDP's propaganda. The high earners invest and create jobs for others, but the NDP would have you believe that the rich got that way because they stole money that should have legitimately gone to the poorer. By taking money from the rich, you will adversely affect the economy, and hurt the poor. Don't fall pray to the NDP's lines and poor economic reasoning. Fight these recommendations. Who can you talk to? Our three comrade MPP's who represent this region. Also, try the president of the Laurentian Young New Democrats in the student room. His name is Daniel Colburn, tell him Gordon sent you.

Carny Week: Something For Everyone

by Heather Bishop
SGA President

It's that time again! Carny Week is just Around the corner and preparations are almost complete. Although many of the events may not interest you, we are hoping that this one will.

As always, we are having a Casino Night. It will take place in the Great Hall on Tuesday, January 25, 1994, and this year a portion of the profits will be donated to the Laurentian Walkhome Service! Doors open at 8:30 pm and the evening wraps up around 1:00 am. The cost is $2 to get in the door, but after that it's up to you. Minimum bet is 50¢, and the maximum bet is $2. With 27 blackjack tables and 3 wheels that's more tables than ever had before.

During this evening as well, there will be an amateur night taking place. This will give students and faculty alike a chance to show off their talents to everyone in attendance. If you are interested in performing at the show please contact the SGA office ASAP.

We are looking forward to a great evening and helping a great cause. We hope you will be a part of it.

Martin Luther King fought to end discrimination and achieve equality for all people. His organization Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), promoted non-violent tactics. Numerous sit-ins, protest marches and demonstrations drew attention to the unjust treatment of blacks in the United States. The various demonstrations which led to the March on Washington produced a strong effect on national opinion and resulted in the passing of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

This act outlawed discrimination in places of public accommodations and created a federal fair employment practices agency with enforcement powers. Most significantly, this act gave the president the power to withdraw federal funds from state and local agencies that discriminated against Negroes. King was not entirely satisfied by the Civil Rights Act. He saw the need for a law that would give blacks the right to vote in all states. Consequently, the Voting Rights Act was passed in 1965. Martin Luther King Day recognizes this activist's endless efforts to get blacks the freedom and equal justice that they deserve.

New Election Procedures for the SGA

by Heather Bishop
Staff Writer

It seems like only yesterday it was Christmas, and the next thing you know, it will be Spring Break. Time flies so quickly in second term it is unbelievable! As you may be aware, when you return from the Break, you will be overwhelmed with among many other things, posters, posters, and more posters!

Yes, that's right, it's SGA Election time again. You may have recieved already in the mail, a voting card. This is a 3X5 card with your name, student number, and polling location written on the back. This is a part of the new election procedures developed by a very creative Constitution Committee. Please do not throw away this card. You need it to vote. Without this card you do not have a vote.

This year, on March 9 or 10 you will take this card to the location listed on the back to cast your ballot. You will be asked to turn in your card and present your student card. If you do not have a student card, you will not be allowed to vote. Just like the Federal Election, you have to show ID. Your name will only appear on one voters list so please go to the location on the back of the card. Any other polling station will turn you away. Your card will be collected and your name will be crossed off the list.

Students living in residence will vote in their residence. UC, SSR, and MSR students will vote on Student Street. Huntington will vote in Huntington, U of S will vote in U of S, and Thorneloe will vote in Thorneloe. Off Campus students will vote in one of two places. The polling station will depend on the program you are registered in. Anyone whose program department is housed in the Science or Fraser Buildings, will vote in the Science Cafe. Everyone else, including Classroom, and Arts Building, Teachers College, Phys. Ed and Pro-Schools will vote in the Great Hall. If there is any doubt as to where you vote, please contact the SGA office as soon as possible. If you do not recieve a Voting Card in the mail within the next few weeks, (by the first week of February, at the latest) come in to the SGA office to get one. You will need proof of ID and program to obtain one.

The double voting problems of the past have been rectified this year. Should you obtain two voting cards for some reason, you will only be able to use one. When you show your ID, and voting card and cast your ballot, your card will be collected and your name will be crossed off the list, the only list your name will appear on. Should you attempt to vote again, your name will already be crossed off and a card could be cross referenced. Your name will be taken, and the punishment listed in the newly adopted Constitution will be applied. You will be ineligible to hold a position on the SGA Board and will be unable to vote for the next three (3) years.

Although this procedure may sound somewhat complex in my explanation, it is really quite simple. If you have any problems understanding this, or have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact either Michelle, or myself in the SGA office for further explanation of the process.

Out and about: Coming out

by Churchill

Coming out is not just the first time one has sex with another man. It is also the adoption of a psychological and social stance and it is the public stance that we take toward our homosexuality. In the past, few people were lucky enough to have come out in a relaxed way. Perhaps today fantasy and reality can come a little closer.

The earliest urges toward homosexuality are usually exercised in adolescent fantasies. The homosexual aspect of some boys' fantasies may be disguised -a boy may masturbate while imagining a man and a woman having sex, and may scarcely notice that most of this attention is focused on the man, zooming in for more close-ups of his anatomy than of hers.

At some point the neophyte gay will have his first homosexual experience in the flesh. All the horniness held in check and vented only during masturbation will be released in a flood of desire. There is something very special about the initial sexual experiences. A few gays coming out confuse good sex with love. With maturity they learn that sex is not always a measure of love or intimacy.

After one or many experiences, someone coming out will have to say to himself, "I'm gay." To ever greater numbers of men entering gay life this statement comes naturally and easily. Others find self-acceptance harder to achieve, and the coming-out process takes longer. They may have sporadic sexual contacts, but they shrink from admitting their homosexuality even to themselves. Others think of themselves as gay, but do not tell anyone else in on the secret.

Of those who do come out publicly, some tell only one or two friends, others only members of their families: a few are open with everyone. Most often we disclose our homosexuality to parents, brothers and sisters, intimate friends, and, lately, employers, because we want no artificial barriers to stand between us and people important in our lives. If we come out to them with love, they are unlikely to remain distant for long, though some parents do demonstrate neurotic behavior when they learn of a son's homosexuality. Even so, despite the risks, many sons feel the temporary stress is worth the bother if it eliminates the more pernicious stress of deception.

So, coming out proceeds through stages, from fantasies to the first same-sex experience to acknowledging to yourself and then to others that you are gay, and finally to identifying with the gay community. How someone moves through these stages will differ from individual to individual and will be determined by several factors. If you are a young man or women still living at home or if you are in university, coming out can be painful. You'll need help from gay organizations and friends.

HIV Disease has highlighted the responsibility we have as members of the gay community. Our first responsibility is to be informed about and to practice safe sex. The second is to encourage friends, lovers, and tricks to protect their own health. Finally, many gay men find that involvement in the community provides sustenance and meaning in their own lives. Consider joining an AIDS service organization and working with gay clubs and association.

International Student Exchange - Go For It!

VISA-Student from Switzerland

Have you ever thought about becoming an exchange student? Or is the exchange something other people do while you prefer staying where you are and would rather just listen to other people's adventures abroad? Now, this is exactly how I first looked at it. I doubted that I would have the necessary courage and strength to leave my cosy home for a year. Could I ever handle it? Wouldn't I be terribly homesick?

I am a few years older now and look back on a wonderful exschool or at University. Did you ever talk to them and find out how life was for them in Canada, if it was different from what they were used to? Or did you just assume that their life - in whatever country they were coming from - would be rather similar to the one you are leading? If you DID approach those students you most probably learned many new things about a culture that was unknown to you before. And this is the kernel of the exchange idea. But instead of asking questions you go and check it out yourself.

Think of yourself as a bird that flies to another planet. To ex-ment. This experiment involves your palate (dishes you have never tasted before such as "hot chilly soup"), your ears ("How do you like Irish folk music?"), you brains (School or university will teach you the country's history), and your eyes (You finally get to see the Eiffel Tower for real, not just on pictures!). Furthermore, in discussion with new friends, you find out about their political attitudes and concerns, and by doing so you will not only broaden your horizon but also - almost automatically - learn a foreign language fluently. However, I will not pretend that the exchange-endeavour is just "having a good time"; on the contrary, it is a lot of work on your part, too. Leaving that warm and comfortable nest means that you will have to take care of yourself. The new planet might challenge you with problems and difficulties you did not expect and with which you have to deal by yourself. You might have to adjust to a warmer climate, get used to heavy meals or loud church bells tolling next to your new home every Sunday morning. But, by coping with uneasy experiences such as loneliness you will grow up and learn to stand on your own two feet.

as how Canada is governed, what its major exports are or where one should go for hunting and skiing. Could you explain why the beaver is Canada's national animal and why your flag shows a maple leaf? During your stay you will play the role of an ambassador, and ambassador aware of social and cultural differences interanational political leaders have to deal with. And all this together will enrich your life incredibly.

Half a year or two semesters at a foreign university might at first seem like a very long time. But let me assure you that time will pass far too fast, and stranger will eventually become your friend. It will take you some time to get accustomed to your new environ-

The new planet might challenge you with problems and difficulties you did not expect...

Your voyage will include both exploration of a new place and rediscovery of your "old" home. It will not take you very long to realize that life is not the same everywhere; what you probably took for granted back home might not be obvious in other nations, and your perspective of your country might differ very much from the one people have abroad. Also, you will very likely be asked questions such of your country. Remember that the friends you make might not have met other Canadians before, and the picture they are about to draw of Canada and its people will therefore very much depend on your descriptions and your behaviour. You might be shocked at, or delighted about, how little or much others know about your home. It is your obligation to represent Canada and respect other nations, and, by doing so, you will benefit yourself and contribute to a better understanding throughout the world. In meeting other exchange students you will find out about such trivial things as that South Africans have a refreshing pool party at Christmas while you are building a snowman in your front yard, and that the educational system in Japan is a lot more rigid than in the US. You will make friends from New Zealand (the KIWI-country), Yugoslavia and Brazil (where they speak Portuguese, not Spanish as generally assumed) and thus learn to be more you will never regret having taken this courageous step out into the world once you have to return. Besides, what is a year compared to a lifetime? It will be a year in which you will come to perceive many things in a broader context and learn more than you possibly ever could while staying at home and attending classes.

Go for it, do it. Now is the right time for it. Later you may not be given the opportunity to go on exchange; as soon as you leave university you might be tied up in a job or be emotionally bound to your own family. And should money be a problem, there are many good programs offered that will not cost you a fortune. Speak to your dean, or contact Student Services.

DO IT - IT IS WORTH IT. IT IS EVEN MORE THAN WORTH IT.

Eco Talk

by Doreen Cousins
Recycling Coordinator

I hope you plan to tune into Eco Talk on a weekly basis. Last week's article let you know that the recycling program is capturing about 10% of the waste generated on campus. Recycling is an important "R", but the most important of the "R's" is to REDUCE. Reduce waste, that is. One way to reduce waste is to think about the things you buy. This includes my pet peeve - disposing packaging consequence demand on also means go in a landfill least try to) for A n - reduce waste is have recyclable ucts, from pop to poos, are now being pack- called PET. Poly Ethylene Terephthalate, short formed to PET or PETE, is collected in the local BLUE BOX curbside program, at the PUB on campus, and in the residences. It can be identified by looking for the initials below a recycling logo with a 1 in the middle, or simply a raised white dot. Learn to recognize this type of plastic, which is different than the opaque type that windshield washer fluid is packaged in.

Speaking of plastic, it is very important NOT to put plastic grocery bags into the recycling containers. Your efforts to collect cans and PET plastic containers are appreciated, however these bags are made of "film" plastic and must be removed from the bins. (Which is a major hassle!!)

See you next week for information on environmental products, and "What the heck is an ECO LOGO anyway?"

If you require more information, please call ext. 1518.

Oh What a Tangled Web We Weave

by Glenn Scott
Entertainment Editor

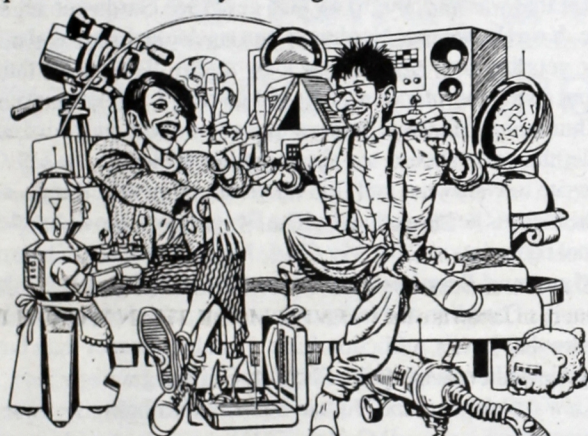

Only we, as young adults would so gratuitously inflict upon ourselves the torture of drunkenness. How do we justify ourselves? In short, I believe it can be summed up by saying "short-term gain and long-term pain."

Ah yes, the hang-over is a wonderful thing isn't it. There really is nothing like waking up in the morning with a hard-as-rock tongue, a sticky mouth, a sore head, and an unknown bed-partner. Yes, only a human would do this to themselves.

Besides all of the negatives what did we learn? Well, of what we can remember we know we had a good time. What we don't remember can usually be left up to interpretation. The hard part is learning what actually did go on. Like (heaven forbid) and illicit moment with your friend's girlfriend - OOPS! Or if you have a Polaroid like the boys in M-13, you may have for yourself a souvenir of the fact that greasy food and copious quantities of alcohol just don't mix - right Goldie?

The art of the barf is quite unique. Some can do it with great ease and continue drinking. Some have to jump around a bit to stir things up, and others assume fetal position and fight it for as long as possible. Some can stand-up and do it while others become one with the bowl that is, providing one makes it to the bowl.

The day after is always special. It's usually movie-day. A day where you never get out of your pyjamas. A day where by the time you feel like getting dressed, it's time to go to bed again. A day of tea, and gingerale and perhaps some soup. A day of saying why did I do that, or more commonly what did I do? It is a day of stupid giddiness. It is a day of reflection - a day to be spent with the rest of your hung-over friends!

Out of Body Experiences. The How-To Guide

by Glenn Scott

Robert Monroe, publisher of Journeys Out of the Body, a first person account that chronicled his alleged out-of-body-experience. Here are Monroe's tips for an out-of-body experience. According to Monroe, anyone can travel outside the body, all it takes is practice and the desire to do it. For those attempting OBE's, Monroe suggests the following guidelines.

1) In a warm, dark room where you will not be disturbed, lie in a comfortable position with your head pointing north. Loosen clothes and remove any jewellery.

2) Relax your mind and body. Close your eyes and breathe rhythmically, keeping your mouth slightly open.

3) Focus on a single image as you drift toward sleep. When you reach the state bordering wakefulness and sleep, deepen your relaxation by concentrating on the blackness beyond your eyelids.

4) To induce the vibrations that allegedly herald the onset of an OBE, focus on a point about twelve inches from your forehead. Gradually extend the point of focus to a distance of six feet and then draw an imaginary line parallel to your body. Focusing on that plane, imagine all the vibrations and bring them down into your head.

5) Gain control of the vibrations by consciously guiding them through your body - from your head to your toes and back again. Once these vibratory waves can be produced on mental command, you are ready to attempt separation from the body.

6) To leave the body, concentrate on how pleasant it would be to float upward. Maintain these thoughts, and your astral form should begin to rise.

7) To return to the physical self, simply focus on re-engaging the two entities.

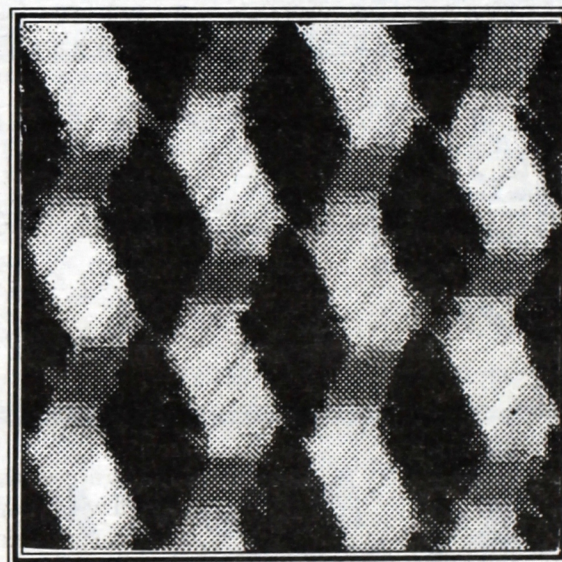

Monroe doesn't promise a guarantee on your first try. You must be willing to believe in what you are trying to do.

At the Gallery The Art of Arlene Stamp

From January 20 to February 20, there will be an exhibition of recent works by Canadian artist Arlene Stamp at the Laurentian University Museum and Art Centre, 251 John Street, Sudbury. The exhibition is called Tilings.

Arlene Stamp has made five wall-mounted paintings and one large floor piece using the ready-made material of vinyl tile. She feels that the use of vinyl tile calls upon associations already familiar to the viewer, for instance, a grid pattern, colour range and scale.

Yet she disrupts these associations by having the paintings actually drape off the wall onto the floor. And in the floor piece, Plaza, the artist states, "from the simple intersection of two grid patterns, the pattern is infinitely various no matter how broadly it is extended in any direction."

Arlene Stamp has an active exhibition history. Since attaining her MFA in painting in 1980 at the University of Calgary, she has exhibited in Vancouver, Banff, Calgary, Lethbridge, Toronto, Owen Sound and Montreal. Her work is represented by Wynick/Tuck Gallery in Toronto. This exhibition is curated by Pamela Krueger.

On Feb. 9 and 10, Arlene Stamp will meet with and talk to area artists and others interested. This is an "Artists with their Work" Program which is organized by the Art Gallery of Ontario.

Nardwuar the Human Serviette: Welcome to My Castle Parts I & II

Do you remember Nardwuar? He was on the very last episode of Primetime with Geoff Pevere. He was also on one of the last Ralph Benmurky shows. Nardwuar is a human oddity, wearing a toque. He interviews people. He produces records. He supports the Canadian independent music scene. He's in a band called, The Evaporators. He laughs in the face of adversity. Joey from Degrassi High wants to beat him up. There's probably a few people out there that wouldn't mind taking a shot at him. He's a celebrity.

Welcome to My Castle is a two hour retrospective of Nardwuar's greatest moments. It's a hilarious look at what morons celebrities can be. The tape also contains some truly good interviews, getting real answers out of people instead of the regular pre-fabricated answers from boring questions.

Some of the highlights include the famous Pierre Berton admitting to casual use of marijuana, Monkey Mickey Dolenz admitting to being pro-war and pro-establishment, and the famous "Gorbachev Incident" where Nardwuar asked, "of all the world leaders you've met in your travels, who had the largest pants?" The video is also laced with cool music performances and videos from such famous groups as The Smugglers, The Untamed Youth, The Muffs, The Evaporators, The Nimrods and more. We also get cool scenes from movies and TV shows like Gilligan's Island (following an interview with "the little buddy" himself) and The Monkees.

As if that wasn't enough, we also get to see Nardwuar get beat up by Sonic Youth, we see Nardwuar getting kicked out of the Junos, Nardwuar gets his face painted black by Jello Biafra all the while carrying out a straight interview... Need I go on. If you have any use for a sense of humour and feel that the seventies should be made fun of as much as possible, then you should see about getting Welcome To My Castle. You can write to Nardwuar and find out about other neat things, such as some of the records he has put out by The Evaporators, The Smugglers and also the cool compilations, Oh My God, My Mom's On Channel 10 and Big Macs and Bombers vs. Clam Chowder and Ice. The best thing is that it's Canadian and independent, thus, it's cheaper than buying the movie by that Jane's Addiction fella. It's also cheaper than buying a previously viewed copy of Under Seige or Cliffhanger.

Hardship Post-Hack ep

Ok, let's play the labelling game. Newf-core, I think that's been said already. Power pop. Yeah, that seems like a pretty good one if you must label Hardship Post. What it comes down to in the end is that these three guys from Newfoundland (pronounced NOOfundLAaND) write and play some honest rock-n-roll. That means that there are no wanky rock guitar (pronounced RAWK gEE-tar) solos. There are no gratuitous sex scenes, no twelve minute-heroin induced dirges and no tales of bravado and boasting.

For those of you not familiar with my cheap sarcasm, all of that above stuff means that I have nothing but good things to say about Hardship Post and their six song release, Hack. This is the third release for MurdereCORDs, the label set up by the guys from Sloan, and also adds another brick to the foundation of the east coast music scene. You see, these guys are lucky. Not only do they come from a part of the country where they got sucked into the Halifax-scene thing (which allowed them to get picked up for tours with Eric's Trip and Jale and then Weddings, Parties, Anything and Big Drill Car!!!), but they are also pretty good. One thing though, when they record their next group of stuff, they have to get a better guitar sound. That's my only complaint.

If you want me to compare them with other folks, my first thought is to say, The Stand GT, with only one guitar plugged in. Of course, that doesn't mean a lot to most of the students at this school, because the last time Stand GT played here, I handed out 500 flyers, put posters up everywhere, and only 120 people showed up!!! It broke my damned heart!!! I could also compare them to BlenderHead, the former and future local power trio, but you probably haven't heard of them either. So I won't go on about that, I'll compare them to Nirvana!!! Yeah, so the record company won't talk to me anymore and the guys in the band will probably beat me senseless next time they play here, but maybe it will get some of you students to buy this Hack EP and find out for yourself that there is still a lot of good Canadian music that the "mighty Q" ignores. If you want to hear this record, call up CFLR at 673-6538 and ask for it. That's what your campus radio station is there for.

Hardship Post will be appearing next at the East Coast Music awards and will be touring in March, we should all hope that they decide to come and hang out on our little rock. Watch for the posters.

Everybody do the Dinosaur GUESS HOW LONG IT TAKES

by Glenn Scott

Steven Spielberg's mega-hit Jurassic Park has spawned a huge interest in the Dinosaur. In keeping with the hype here's some Dino-trivia for you.

- The word dinosaur means fearfully great lizards. It was first used in 1841.

- Dinosaurs were probably the most successful backboned animals ever to inhabit this planet. They dominated the Earth for over 140 million years.

- Diplodocus (or "double beam") was one of the longest dinosaurs. A composite of three found in Utah was 87 1/2 ft. overall, with its neck being 22 ft., its body 15 ft. and its tail 50 1/2 ft.

- Brachiosaurus (or "arm lizard") takes the prize for being the heaviest. It weighed as much as 111 tons.

- Stegosaurus was one of the most brainless animals that ever lived. It had a walnut-size brain weighing 2 1/2 ounces in its 2 tons of body weight. That represented .004 of one percent of its body weight. By comparison a human brain represents 1.88 percent of body weight.

- Today's crocodiles are living fossils, ancestors of the crocodilians that terrorized dinosaurs by ambushing them when they came to rivers to drink.

- to arrange five letter blocks in all the possible combinations?

To arrange a row of 15 books in all possible ways, making a change a minute.

A PUZZLER WITH NINES

- Can you write down for nines so they'll equal one hundred

TIME TICKLERS

- Did you know that there is no such thing as 12:15 am? When each day begins, the time is 00 minutes, 00 seconds. So fifteen later, the time is 00:15 am!

How many times in 24 hours do the hands of a clock pass each other?

True or False? The wheels in a conventional watch must come to a stop for the watch to keep perfect time?

ANSWERS

Time Ticklers - if your answer was 22 it is correct.

True. Every wheel must come to a complete stop 432,000 times in each 24 hour period.

Puzzler 9's - It's easy. Try writing 99 9/9

How long does it take? The answers may surprise you. If every one on earth worked day and night for a million years, they would not be able to arrange the blocks in all the possible combinations. Arranging the books would take a mere 2,487,996 years.

Be a Mathematical Whiz

If you are willing to memorize a large number and know it thoroughly, you are in for a lot of fun and can astound your friends with your brilliant mental ability.

The number is very easily memorized if you do it in groups of three. Here it is: 5882352941176470.

Say this over and over until you can rattle it off at any time! After you've memorized this large number, write it on a sheet of paper and ask a friend to multiply it by any number from 2 to 12 inclusive. Suppose they say they want it multiplied by 5.

All you have to do is write down 29411764705882350 as quickly as you can sign your name. How does it work? Very simple. this magic number is always repeating its digits, and if you examine the last big number you will see the familiar 2941176470588235 with a 0 added. Obviously we started at 294 instead of 588..why?

In multiplying by 5 we say mentally, "5 times 6 is 30 - a little less than 30," and start at 29. You see that the number commences with 588 which is a little less than 600, so no matter what number it is to be multiplied by from 2 to 12, you first multiply by 6 then find a starting point that is a little less than the result. For example;

1) 5882352941176470 x 8
(8 x 6 = 48start at 47) =
47058823529411760

2) 5882352941176470 x 7
(7 x 6 = 42.....start at 41) =
41176470588235290

If you know this number thoroughly you'll be able to do this multiplication mentally and amaze your friends who don't know the secret.

BEAVIS AND BUTTHEAD A Legend Has Been Born

by Glenn Scott
Entertainment Editor

It is now obvious that a new fad has landed, and sadly enough seems more popular than everything else in pop-culture. And what could be worse than a fad like Beavis and Butthead.

The two cartoon-criminals have been gaining momentum both on the charts as well as on the best-seller list. Recordings such as a remake of Sonny and Cher's classic "I Got You Babe" have rocket-launched these MTV bad-boys into superstardom. Beavis and Butthead are also polluting the bookstores with their seemingly popular book This Book Sucks. It seems ironic that the two infidels have created a book since their literary genius is comprised of only a fistful of misspelled words.

However, we are eating these two alive (literally in some cases as bakeries have introduced a new Beavis and Butthead cake mould). I have to admit that even I have been partially seduced by the brain dead hooligans. The fact of the matter is that they are so stupid you can't help but laugh at them.

I have two younger brothers, one of whom is seemingly trying to both idolize and emulate these vagrants (Butthead is his favourite). His uproarious laugh of the past has at times been replaced with the hair raising "heh...heh...hehehehehehe...heh.heh" an so on for about five minutes. By his very nature, my brother is not a reader, but for Christmas I ordered him the Beavis and Butthead book This Book Sucks. So its been what, three weeks since Christmas? The book has been read at least once a day. I believe I have helped create a monster.

We have successfully popularized what we should really admit to being trash. But for some reason, we are all attracted to them. Are Beavis and Butthead here to stay? Who knows, I'm sure it will only depend on their ability to maintain their image (and keep changing it). One thing is for sure, if Beavis and Butthead could reply to this article, I'm sure they would say; "Um, ya, um, eh, lick my hole, heheh.hehehh...heheh.hhehehheheheh"

Le Carnaval de l'AGE/SGA

Heather Bishop
présidente de l'AGE/SGA

Ca y est! La semaine du carnaval arrive à grands pas et les préparations sont presque terminées. Quoiqu'un grand nombre des activités risquent de ne pas vous intéresser, nous souhaitons que celle-ci sache piquer votre curiosité, jouer sur votre besoin de participer.

Encore cette année, nous tiendrons une soirée casino. Elle aura lieu au Grand Salon le mardi 25 janvier 1994, et une partie des profits qui y seront réalisés sera versée au service d'accompagnement de la Laurentienne. Les portes ouvriront à 20h30, le tout devant prendre fin vers 1h00. Le coût d'entrée est de 2$; c'est à vous de décider combien la soirée finira par vous coûter! La mise minimale est de 0,50$ et la mise maximale, de 2$. Nous aurons cette année 27 tables de "black jack" et trois roues de la fortune: encore plus que l'année dernière!

Il y aura également un spectacle de talents amateur, pour permettre tant aux étudiant(e)s qu'aux enseignant(e)s de démontrer leurs talents à tous ceux présents. Si vous désirez participer au spectacle, veuillez communiquer avec le bureau de l'AGE LE PLUS TÔT POSSIBLE!

Nous attendons cette grande soirée avec impatience et nous sommes fiers de pouvoir aider une si bonne cause. Nous espérons que vous y serez.

Un gouvernement qui mérite d'être réélu? Ce serait une nouveauté!

François Bergeron
pris de L'Express

Quelle est la dernière fois qu'un gouvernement a fait campagne sur le thème: "nous méritons d'être réélus parce que nous avons tenu nos promesses, même s'il reste encore beaucoup à faire, et voici d'ailleurs quelques nouvelles idées?"

Ce n'était certainement pas l'automne dernier. Kim Campbell l'a passé à tenter en vain d'exorciser le bilan des neuf dernières années de son parti: élu pour assainir les finances publiques, il nous a laissé une dette record! Chez les Libéraux, c'était aussi la stratégie de John Turner, en 1984, qui a produit les résultats similaires.

Joe Clark, en 1980, ça ne compte pas: il n'avait que dix-huit mois à défendre. Alors Mulroney en 1988? L'opposition à l'Accord du libre-échange était majoritaire mais divisée, alors que l'Accord du lac Meech semblait faire l'unanimité...

Trudeau en 1975? Il promettait surtout la stabilité, après deux ans de gouvernement minoritaire appuyé par le NDP et un premier mandat marqué par la crise d'octobre 1970 et l'échec de la conférence constitutionnelle de 1971.

Cet épisode est d'ailleurs l'un des plus fascinants des Mémoires télévisées de l'ancien premier ministre libéral, diffusées en français la semaine dernière et en anglais cette semaine sur les ondes de la société d'État. On y prétend que M. Trudeau s'était entendu secrètement avec le nouveau premier ministre du Québec de l'époque, Robert Bourassa avait tenu parole et approuvé la Charte de Victoria, on n'aurait jamais connu les crises de 1981, 1990 et 1992!

L'ex-premier ministre du Québec travaille lui aussi sur ses mémoires, qui nous permettront de comparer les deux versions de faits, mais il faut avouer que ce serait du Bourassa tout craché que de revenir sur la parole donnée dans le but de faire monter les enchères... pour finalement tout perdre!

Face à la loi 101, par exemple, le Parti Libéral du Québec, dans l'opposition, promettait de lever - comme allait certainement l'exiger la cour suprême - l'interdiction d'afficher dans d'autres langues que le français (Tout en maintenant bien sûr l'obligation d'afficher en français). Reporté au pouvoir en 1985, Robert Bourassa a attendu que la Cour suprême rende sa décision, en 1988, pour revenir sur sa promesse et soustraire la loi québécoise sur l'affichage à l'autorité de la Charte des droits et libertés grâce à la "clause nonobstant".

Et ce, juste avant la ratification de l'Accord du lac Meech par les autres provinces! C'est ce nouvel exemple de duplicité de Robert Bourassa qui a monté le Canada anglais contre toute concession au Québec et qui a provoqué l'échec de Meech, puis de Charlottetown. Ce n'est qu'après avoir tout perdu et alors qu'il n'y avait plus rien à gagner à le faire, que Robert Bourassa a permis, récemment, l'affichage multilingue.

Pierre Trudeau n'est pas parfait - et ses actions sont loin d'être gouvernées par la raison pure, comme il le croit et le répète souvent - mais au moins il est conséquent avec lui-même, cohérent et même prévisible malgré ses pirouettes.

Il a toujours incarné la volonté des francophones d'être les égaux des anglophones au Canada, et la Loi sur les langues officielles reste sa plus grande réalisation. Par contre, désintéressé des questions économiques, il s'est berné lui-même avec sa "société juste" et ses efforts de redistribution de la richesse. Les Canadiens, qui récoltent aujourd'hui les problèmes économiques et sociaux sensés à son époque, sont à blâmer pour lui avoir fait confiance aveuglément dans ce domaine.

Tout cela pour dire que la méfiance des citoyens à l'endroit des politiciens n'est pas injustifiée. Elle est même très saine. Pour Jean Chrétien, c'est un grand avantage. Échaudés par un gouvernement "conservateur" qui n'a jamais réussi à contrôler les finances publiques et à remettre l'économie sur ses rails, les Canadiens ne s'attendent pas à des miracles du nouveau gouvernement "libéral".

Si bien qu'on pourrait, dans quatre ans, être agréablement surpris de sa performance et accepter l'idée qu'il mérite d'être réélu.

Sudbury Transit

Un dimanche d'horreur!

Kevin Perrault
rédacteur français

Eh oui, un une autre article sur nos chers autobus de Sudbury! Cependant, je vous jure que ce sera le dernier pour cette année. Sauf que si je voudrais je pourrais écrire des articles sur ce sujet pour le restant de l'année.

Comme vous le savez déjà, il y a plusieurs personnes qui ont eu des problèmes avec les autobus de la ville. Il y a eu des autobus qui n'arrête pas à au arrêt, des étudiants qui ont dû attendre une ou deux heures pour l'autobus, des autobus qui partent à toute vitesse de l'université et même des autobus qui ne passent pas aux heures prévues.

Et c'est à ce sujet que j'aimerais vous parler. Qu'est-il arrivé? Qu'a fait Sudbury Transit cette fois-ci? J'attendais l'autobus avec une amie dimanche dernier devant l'Esso sur la rue Notre Dame. Après une demi heure, je me suis dit qu'il y avait un problème. Après un heure, nous étions gelé, et nous avons décidé de retourné chez moi.

Par après, j'ai appris que l'autobus avait passé quinze minutes plus tard! Je trouve cela ridicule! Je sais que l'horaire du dimanche est différente, mais attendre une heure et quart pour un autobus c'est fou. Je sais que nous ne sommes que de pauvres étudiants et étudiantes, mais cela n'excuse pas le traitement que nous avons reçu dimanche dernier.

Par contre, les étudiantes et les étudiants ne vont pas à l'université les dimanches n'est-ce pas? Peut-être c'est ce que pense les administrateurs à Sudbury Transit? C'est logique, non? Les étudiantes et les étudiants utilisent l'autobus pendant la semaine, donc ils et elles ne veulent pas l'utiliser pendant la fin de semaine! L'on veut rester chez nous et faire des devoirs! Nous ne devons pas aller à l'université ou à la bibliothèque car on y est pendant la semaine!

Il faut trouver une façon de régler nos problèmes avec Sudbury Transit! La meilleure solution serait probablement un boycottage des services de Sudbury Transit. Mais, il se pourrait que les administrateurs décident de ne plus envoyer des autobus à l'université. Donc, comment fait-on pour améliorer les services?

J'aimerais que vous, les lecteurs, m'envoyez des idées pour que je puisse appeler Sudbury Transit pour leur donner vos idées. Sinon, les services deviendront de plus en plus mauvais. La seule façon que Sudbury Transit pourra s'améliorer c'est en recevant des plaintes. Sans ces plaintes, ils ne sauront jamais que leurs services sont insatisfaisants.

Qui est le pervers???

Le pervers

D'accord, d'accord j'ai manqué une semaine. Mais j'avais besoin du temps pour penser à ce que le monde m'a dit. Quoi vous voulez savoir de quoi je parle? Très simple, je parle du fait que le monde aimerait savoir qui je suis. C'est-à-dire quel est mon nom... et bien pour le moment je préfère maintenir le prénom de pervers qui est au fond mon deuxième nom. Alors les étudiant(e)s me disent que cela est acceptable mais qu'ils aimeraient bien savoir si je suis un homme ou une femme. Pour tout vous dire, je sais du moins que je ne suis pas les deux en même temps. Et voilà ce que le monde pense:

Tout d'abord la rumeur était que je suis un homme parce que seulement un homme, d'après eux, est capable d'être aussi dégoûtant, au point que je le suis. Ma question: Est-ce que mes textes sont vraiment dégoûtants?

Alors on m'accusait d'être une femme, car soi-disant les femmes sont les seules qui ne sont pas gênées de parler de sexe. Alors dites-moi comment ça se fait que certains hommes parlent de leurs expériences à leurs amis et même que certains d'entre eux appellent à la radio pour régler leurs problèmes sexuels.

Je pense sérieusement qu'il y a un problème sociale dans notre communauté. Pourquoi doit-on toujours juger les personnes d'après leur genre. La sexualité ne dépend pas du genre mais de la passion qu'on n'y met.

Par exemple j'avais plusieurs personnes qui m'ont racontées de quelle façon elles aimeraient passer leur Noël avec leur partenaire. Je dois avouer que certaines idées étaient très alléchantes. Mais Noël est fini et ses rêves avec lui. Les personnes, elles, je ne sais pas encore si elles ont fini de fêter Noël..

En tout cas, je sais que je n'aimerais pas vous révéler mon genre car je n'aime pas qu'on me classifie dans des boîtes ou qu'on me mette une étiquette sur mon front mais je sais que par la fin de cette année je vais vous révéler qui je suis vraiment ... Mais pour le moment, le secret n'a pas encore le droit de sortir de sa cave. Disons simplement que je ne suis pas un neutre et ni un masculin...

The Roar of the Spectators?

Steve Martinovich
Sports Editor

Since becoming Sports Editor in September, it's been part of my job to attend sporting functions and report on them. I don't mind this task since I love sports. Most people also seem to love sports, but I've noticed something which has bothered me for a long time. It's the level of support that this school gives its teams.

I wonder why this is. It can't be the cost. All games only cost a nominal fee to attend, usually two or three dollars. It can't be that our teams aren't competitive. The hockey team is first in their division, the women's basketball team is ranked second in the nation, the soccer team made the playoffs and featured the OUAA scoring leader, the men's team looks to be in fine form. In fact, all the teams seem to be doing well.

It's not just the fans. I'm sure you all know that the hockey team is on a year to year basis. If for one year they aren't financially viable, then the team could be cut. There just doesn't seem to be any real support for the teams from Administration. I can understand that. Ever since universities became businesses instead of learning institutions, the nurturing spirit for students and athletics was lost.

It shouldn't be this way. We are a part of the community that makes up this campus. Our teams are doing well and not only deserve great fan support, but have a right to it. Our Lady Vees should expect bleachers full of fans when they play at home; it should only be natural to go out and support our winning teams. The hockey Vees shouldn't have to see a sparse (sometimes as low as 15 to 20 people) crowd when they play a tough rival.

I can only ask you, as a member of Laurentian society, to go and see just one game. Just one. Doesn't matter which one it is. Just see one. Show the teams that you are proud of them and give them the support that they need to keep being the champions that they are.

Official-Languages Monitor Program

Under a program funded by the Government of Canada, the Ministry of Education and Training in conjunction with the Council of Ministers of Education, Canada, invites students to apply for the position of second-language monitors (French or English) for the 1994-95 academic year.

Part-Time Monitors

Official-languages monitors must be full-time postsecondary students usually studying in a province other than their own. They will work between six and eight hours per week under the supervision of a second-language teacher. Some francophone monitors will be assigned to French schools outside Quebec. For eight months' participation in the program, they will receive at least $3,500 and one return trip between their home and the host province.

To be eligible for the part-time program, students must have completed at least one year of postsecondary studies or will have completed such studies by the end of the 1993-94 academic year.

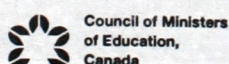

Full-Time Monitors

Full-time monitors must have completed at least one year of postsecondary studies. Duties consist of assisting French second-language teachers in rural or semi-urban areas usually in a province other than their own, for 25 hours per week. Some francophone monitors will be assigned to French schools outside Quebec. Monitors will receive up to $11,400 for 10 months of participation. They will also receive two return trips per year between their home province and the host province. They may also receive a moving allowance of a minimum of $300 and a maximum of $1,110 for commuting expenses within the host province.

Application forms and program brochures may be obtained from placement offices in postsecondary institutions, or from the address below:

Provincial Co-ordinator, Monitor Program

Men's Intramural Hockey Decided

The Men's Intramural Hockey League played its last games for the 93/94 season with both divisions being decided on the last night.

In the "A" League, AEF convincingly shut out the "Unknowns" to slip by the U of S Stroker's into first place. Harley's Hackers defeated the Engineers 3-1 to move into third place.

The "B" League saw a log jam at the top with four teams all within 2 points of each other. On January 5th, the SSR Chiefs dashed any hopes that Thornloe had of taking the title by beating them 3-1. The Chiefs had the same record as "The Habs". Meanwhile, the only team that could knock off the "The Habs" was the UC Raiders team. A win against the UC Hounds by more than six goals would vault the Raiders into first place. Of course, the Raiders lost 10-4 to the UC Hounds and had to settle for fourth place.

In the scoring race, Rich Dafoe of Harley's Hackers scored two goals and one assist against the Engineers and also moved him into a tie for first with Mario Brilliant of AEF for the scoring title in the "A" League. The "B" League also saw a tie for first between Jim Lebrun of Thornloe and Jason Reid of "The Habs".

Thanks go out to the convenor, the referees and all the other people who helped make it a great season!

This week's player profile features a rookie on the team. Michael Taylor is from Thornhill, Ontario and is currently in his first year of Social Sciences. As a technique or offside hitter on the team, he is looking to improve his skills this season. He feels that this year's team is well-rounded and has tremendous potential if everyone plays up to expectations. What Michael enjoys most during a game is "pounding the ball into the opponents face".

Look in next week's issue for a profile on one of the veteran players.

Don't Be Bitter...

by Patricia Wright, LU Student & Aquatic Staff Supervisor
Contributor

It seems that Shaun Joseph felt it necessary to alert the Laurentian community about the quality of protection he was receiving at the Olympic Gold Pool. Thank-you Shaun, but your opinion would have been better received in an informal meeting with myself or Ron Larwood, Chairperson of Physical Services. Your opinion is, of course, your personal matter, but for the rest of the Laurentian community, I would like to clarify a few things.

Firstly, there is a provincial standard for lifeguards that must be met before a person can guard on deck. Guards at the Olympic Gold Pool are required to exceed these standards by maintaining not only their National Lifeguard Service (NLS) award, but also their CPR and Aquatic Emergency Care (AEC) awards. As well, all but one of our guards are certified as Instructors for both the Royal Life Saving Society of Canada, and Red Cross. It is true that experience is valuable in this profession, but it is also true that the qualifications mentioned above are the same qualifications that someone working at a pool for 10 years would hold. In this respect, experience does not make you more qualified, it only makes you more comfortable because of the situations that you presumably have dealt with.

As far as hiring staff for our facility goes, there was a try-out set in early September. There were signs posted around campus for a few weeks prior to this try-out, and it ended up that there were more people applying than positions available. It was the responsibility of Mr. Larwood and myself, therefore, to choose the guards that had performed the best at that try-out, and then hire these people on a probationary period to ensure that the quality of their guarding was high. Although I received many applications after this point in time, there was no room to employ additional lifeguards, so the staff has remained as is.

It is not true that the majority of the staff is made up of high school students. There are 18 University students, and 9 High School students currently employed. This balance of University and community staff is critical to maintain smooth operations year round, especially since our program requires several full-time employees throughout the summer months. Without community support, there would be no staff for that crucial time of our facility management. It is very atypical that qualified people from outside the community remain in Sudbury and apply for the summer positions.

In short, Shaun, if these "experienced guards" you mention apply on time next year, I'm sure they won't experience the problem you did this year, and in the end might not be so bitter.

OUAA Round-Up

OUAA Athlete of the Week

Dave Ficton, a guard with the Brock Badgers basketball team, is the OUAA Athlete of the Week for January 10. The 21 year old, 3rd year Health Studies student from Welland scored 32 points in leading the Badgers to a 96-72 win over the Windsor Lancers in the opening game of week play and added 34 in a non-conference win over Toronto last week.

OUAA Hockey Notes

John Spoltore of Laurier continues to lead the OUAA in scoring with 11 goals and 17 assists (11-17-28) in 14 games. Ian Richardson and Jamie Caruso of Ryerson make up second and third place with 27 points (9-18-27) and 24 points (13-11-24).

The top goalie in the league is Francois Gravel of UQTR. His average of 2.24 in 8 games gives him a comfortable lead over Patrick Jeanson of McGill, who has 2.78 average in 9 games. Sean Basilio of Western rounds up the top 3 with a 2.93 average.

CIAU Basketball

The McMaster Marauders, of the OUAA, are top ranked in the nation, with the Alberta Golden Bears and the Victoria Vikings making up the rest of the top 3. The Brock Badgers at 7th spot and the Western Mustangs at 9th are the only other OUAA teams ranked nationally.

CIAU Hockey

Four teams from the OUAA are ranked nationally. The UQTR Patriotes are ranked 4th, Laurier Golden Hawks are 5th and Western Mustangs come at 6th. The Ottawa Gee Gees come in at 9th. The Lethbridge Pronghorns are ranked first nationally.

CIAU Volleyball

The McMaster Marauders are ranked 8th in the nation and the Queen's Golden Gaels are ranked 10th. The Manitoba Bisons are ranked first nationally. The Windsor Lancers won the Ryerson Invitational Tournament last weekend, beating Western.

Pizza Hut Athlete of the Week

Laurentian's Pizza Hut Athlete of the Week is Shawn Swords. Over the weekend, Shawn scored 23 points against the Ryerson Rams as well as 27 points against the York Yeomen to help the Vees claim victory in their season opener on the road. Shawn is a 6'4" guard from Ottawa and is a 2nd year Sports Administration student at Laurentian.

Basketball Squad Completes Weekend Sweep

The Laurentian basketball teams capped a successful weekend by posting their second consecutive victories of the regular season at York. In Saturday night's opening game, the Lady Vees demolished the Yeowomen by a 82-59 count led by Carolyn Swords' 21 points and Dianne Norman's 20. In the evening finale, the Voyageurs pounded the Yeomen 98-78, paced by Shawn Swords' 27 points.

Hockey Vees Earn Weekend Split

The Laurentian Voyageur Hockey Team travelled to Southern Ontario this past weekend to take on the Windsor Lancers and the Western Mustangs. Saturday's game saw the Vees defeat the Lancers 5-4 in overtime. Game MVP Darren Dougan scored twice, while Pat Armatage scored the winner. Sunday's action pitted the Vees against the nation's number two ranked team, the Western Mustangs. The Voyageurs gave the home team a tough battle before falling 2-1. Darren Dougan scored the only goal and goaltender Jeff Fife was named game MVP.

Melaney Has "Shot" at CIAU's

Christina Melaney qualified for the CIAU Track and Field Championships after finishing second at the University of Toronto First Chance Qualifier. Her throw of 12.05m was well over the qualifying standard of 12.00m.

Jama Ross also had an impressive weekend finishing first in the women's triple jump and setting a new Laurentian University record. Jackie Dore finished eighth and Danielle Dennie finished tenth in the 60m. Suzanne Peters was ninth in the 600m and eleventh in the 1000m. Norma Milligan was twelfth in the 60m hurdles. The Women's 4X200m team of Dore, Dennie, Milligan and Melaney was fourth.

The men's team also had a strong weekend led by the second place finishes of Jason Leach in the 1000m. Richard Dagenais in the 60m hurdles, Ian Janssen in the triple jump and the men's 4X800m relay team. Mark Dewan was fifth in the 1500m and Michael Okell was sixth in the long jump.

Innertube Water Polo It's Silly

Ok, here's the situation! The Intramural Program wants you and a few of your closest buds to sign up for the Innertube Water Polo Tournament. Sign-ups start on January 17, 1994; only the first 8 teams will be accepted. The tournament is on the 6th and 7th of February and will be a good swim practice for those of you heading south for Spring Break (unless it's the southern state of Mexico, in which case you'll need a jacket - one made of kevlar). Teams must have at least two women in the water at all times and games last about an hour. There will be prizes for most original costume. The top teams receive pins - yes pins!

A National Battle In The Making

The Lady Vee's home opening weekend could prove to be their most challenging of the season. With their perennial rivals from the University of Toronto in town on Friday night, the girls should have their hands full defending their Number 2 National ranking against the Number 3 ranked team in the Nation, the U of T Blues. Not to worry though, our girls are up to the challenge. However, they would like your help. As Coach Ennis said, "crowds make a big difference, especially the rowdy ones". So why not come and make some noises in the gym of Friday, January 21st at 6:15?

The girls will have little time to rest. On Saturday night, the very competitive Queen's Golden Gaels will be visiting. Come and join the fun on Saturday, January 22nd at 6:15. Let's show our guests what a real Laurentian welcome is like!

scores were 15-5, 15-6 and 15-10.

Saturday was only somewhat better for the Vees. After a slow start they dropped the first two games with little resistance. However, in the third game a newly charged Vees team dominated the Gaels. The Vees continued to play strong, taking the fourth game as well. Unfortunately, the overpowering lineup from Queens which includes David Kantor who leads the East Division with 6.3 points per game, was too strong and finally prevailed in the fifth game. The Saturday night scores were 15-3, 15-9, 6-15, 16-17, 15-10.

The volleyball Vees hosted the Queen's Golden Gaels, the 10th ranked team in the country, and were battered both days that the Golden Gaels were here. On Friday the Vees started off slowly against a quick and hard hitting Queen's and never managed to find their own rhythm. They quickly fell to the Gaels 3-0, despite a hard fought battle by the Vees. The

Track Team Comes Up Big at Hamilton

The Laurentian track and field team had a busy weekend competing in three different track meets.

The "Chairman of the Boards" meet was held Friday afternoon at Copp's Coliseum in Hamilton. Gold medals were earned by Jason Leach in the 600 yards and by Richard Dagenais in the 300 yards. Daniel Leduc was 3rd in the 300 yards. The women's 4 by 1 lap team of Danielle Dennie, Norma Milligan, Jama Ross and Christina Melaney were third.

A number of Laurentian athletes were invited to compete in special university races held during the Hamilton Spectator Games International Track Meet on Friday night. Laurentian speedster Larry Basacco was third in the 50 metres. In one of the most exciting races of the night, the men's 4X400 metre relay team brought home the gold. Daniel Leduc showed his strength and determination edging out a runner from Windsor. Richard Dagenais ran the first leg passing off to Jason Leach. Glen "Weeble" Lamonthe and Daniel Leduc brought the Vees home.

The team traveled to York University on Saturday. Jama Ross reset her own Laurentian University record in the women's triple jump. Her jump of 11.09 m bettered the previous record by one centimeter and was good enough for the bronze medal. Christina Melaney was 5th in the shot put. Richard Dagenais was 4th in the 60m hurdles. The men's 4X200m relay team (Basacco, Dagenais, Leduc, Leach) was 5th. The 4X400m team (Dagenais, Mark Dewan, Leach, Rob VandenHengel) finished 6th. Derek Reed 6th in the 3000 m. Ian Janssen was seventh in the triple jump. Eighth place finishes went to Paul VanSickle in the 1000 m and Jason Leach in the 1500 m.

The team's next meet will be the Can-Am Classic in Windsor, January 21 and 22.

Vees Start off Season with Wins

The Ryerson Rams played host to both the Laurentian's men's and women's basketball teams last Friday night. In their first regular season match up of the year, the Lady Vees crushed their opponents from Ryerson by a score of 73-40. Joy McNichol led the Vees with 18 points while veteran captains Carolyn Swords and Dianne Norman had 17 and 11 points respectively.

On the men's side, the Voyageurs claimed an exciting 94-92 victory over a talented Ryerson squad. Brad Hann and Shawn Swords each had 23 points in an important first road win.

Cross-Country Ski Challenge

by Gregory Cawsey
Contributor

As convenor of the cross-country ski challenge '94, I would like to introduce you to the event and how you can get involved.

On Friday February 4th, skiers will be hitting the 1 km course trying to complete as many laps as possible in effort to raise money for Laurentian Hospital. To take up the second challenge, sign up in the Physical Education Services office and pick up your sponsor sheet package. Rentals are available at the outdoor centre and there are prizes, courtesy of Q92, for skiers who do the most laps and raise the most money.

So, if being active in the great outdoors to raise money for charity appeals to you, then get involved. Now maybe you can't ski, or you think X-Country is boring, or maybe, like me, you can't be there on the fourth. No problem. Sponsor a brave soul willing to freeze their butt off for charity.

Either way Laurentian, the challenge has been given. Get involved. Remember, MacLean's is watching.

Swoosh! It's Only The Beginning

The 1994 season is about to begin for the Laurentian Voyageurs Men's Basketball Team. Tomorrow night is their season opener against U of T.. This game will bring back memories from last year. Our loss in the finals eliminated our chances for CIAU's but this year will be different. At the Rod Shoveller Tournament at Dalhousie, the Voyageurs swept away U of T and eventually won the Consolations of the Tournament.

Earlier in preseason the Voyageurs played the number one team in the country, MacMaster and the two team, Alberta. Against MacMaster the Voyageurs fought long and hard to make it a two point game at the half. Their current record is 8 wins, 10 losses.

This year's team is rather young compared to last year. But these players have a lot of enthusiasm to play and the eagerness to win. The returning players are Brad Hann (Ollie), Chris Fisher (Fish), Shawn Swords (Swordsie), Jason Hurley (Hurls), Stuart Tait (Stu). And the rookies for this year's team are Mike Scott (Sudbury), Cory Bailey (Toronto), Dave Mate (New Liskard), Mike Cassone (Tilsonburg), Adam Dusome (Barrie), and Hendrick Swanveld (Aurora).

There are pocket schedules available for all students, if you would like one they can be picked up at the door of the Gym during FRIDAY'S NIGHT GAME. Just ask!

This weekend is the Basketball Team's Home Opener so let's make it a blast by coming out to both games and cheering our Team to victory!

After the FRIDAY night game the PUB will be hosting a "Meet the Team Night". After the SATURDAY night game there is a Party at the PUB with the Basketball Team. There will be prizes to be won. Along with a game ticket stub you can receive a FREE BIG SLICE OF PIZZA!

THANK-YOU FOR YOUR SUPPORT!

L.O.C.S.: Back To High School

by Douglas Vallance
Staff Writer

The L.O.C.S./E.H.C.L. members have taken steps toward improving the Laurentian University reputation with High school students here in Sudbury. They have set up a program which sends groups of two or three Laurentian Students into grade 13 or OAC classes to "recruit" members into Laurentian instead of leaving town.

The purpose is to show that Laurentian is actually a good university, especially for those students who come from, and are planning to stay in the area.

These sessions usually take 45 minutes with a question period talking about the benefits of the Laurentian University Community. The different organizations which make up the governing body of the students here at Laurentian add to the appeal which L.O.C.S./E.H.C.L. brings out in these High School recruiting session.

"It's just a way of having kids in the area get a chance to put something back into the area."

L.O.C.S./E.H.C.L. The Changing Of The Guards

By: Douglas Vallance
Contributor

This is a notification to the university public that John Woodrow has resigned his position as the president of the L.O.C.S./E.H.C.L. organization. There were no internal problems or pressures, John resigned for personal external reasons which did not concern the work of the L.O.C.S./E.H.C.L. group.

Tracey Legault, the vice president of this organization and the rest of the crew have all continued in their duties and positions to make up for the loss. Things are running smoothly and they would like to thank everyone for their cooperation.

LAURENTIAN CAMPUS MINISTRY

L.C.M. welcomes you to a series of three presentations called "The Sharing of a Spiritual Journey". L.C.M. wishes to bring awareness and visibility of Spiritual Life on Campus. By this activity "The Sharing of a Spiritual Journey" we wish to provide an opportunity to hear faculty and staff who have accepted the invitation to share their Spiritual Journey. By doing so, they provide us with opportunity to become more aware of our own spiritual journey. To hear someone who took time to reflect upon their journey helps us to recognize events in our own journey that makes us grow as a more intelligent, responsible and spiritual person. They will help us find words to describe our spiritual experiences.
